

WindRiver Fence

Making safe HDPE horse fence since 1991

Shortly after installing 7 miles of WindRiver Fence at Stanford University a large wind took down a 100 year old oak on one of our fence posts pictured above. If you look closely at the post you will see that the post bent but did NOT break. The post was replaced and the rails were NOT damaged and were reused.